ASS "YELLOW LINE" GRANT; LODI STREET TO BE PAVED

IVE YEAR FIGHT NOW TERMINATED; TO DOUBLE TRACK

The city council met in an adjourned session last evening and did two important things. They passed the yellow line franchise, and instructed the service director to have plans prepared for the paving of Lodi street. That's an eyeful of news to spring on an unsuspecting public in one paragraph, but it's true after five years of bickering, pulling and hauling, by three different sets of councilmen.

For 25 Year Period

The passing of the franchise was unanimous after the measure had been read through, and a few details discussed. General Manager Cohn, of the Lake Shore Electric, and Supt. Chas Coon, of the Lorain Street Railway Co were both present, and both were satisfied with the terms of the franchise.

During the past week the street railway committee has been in conference with Manager Cohn He objected to putting up a $10,000 maintenance bond, and finally compromised by agreeing to double track the line from where the tracks enter Lodi street across the bridge to Chestnut street. This concession extends the double track one block further east than it now is.

Five Cent City Fare

The franchise is for a period of twenty-five years. It provides for turning the cars on North street on a private right of way doing away with backing or looping cars on the street. The company agrees to maintain a suitable waiting room, properly lighted and heated. Within five years the road will erect and maintain new steel or concreate poles, replacing the wooden poles as fast as the wooden poles become unservicable. The city has the right to use the poles for fire and police wires. The company agrees to pave the devil strip and one foot on the outside of the track The base of the tracks is to be put in in a satisfactory and substantial manner. A five cent fare shall prevail in the city, with a two-cent transfer, as provided for in the general street railway ordinance. The ordinance also gives the street railway the exclusive use of the street without competition with bus lines, but does not exclude city taxis, or the right of any other railway to use their tracks if necessary. The company is to safeguard from electrolysis action, and shall keep their tracks in good condition at all times

To Push Paving

There are a number of other minor provisions such as are usual in street railway franchises, and the provision is made that if the company shall fail to comply with the provisions of the franchise for thirty days the city has a right to terminate the franchise, and take possession of the street The franchise was passed with the emergency clause attached.

After the franchise was passed Manager Cohn expressed himself as satisfied with it's provisions, and both himself and the council said they were glad that the litigation was over.

Councilman Muller, who was chairman of the committee that drew the franchise then moved that the service director instruct the city engineer to proceed at once to draw plans, profiles and specifications for the paving of Lodi street, and this was passed. It will take at least six weeks to get everything ready for bids on paving the street, but it is the intention of hurrying it along as fast as possible so as to have the work completed this year.

168-HOUR NON-STOP FLORIDA RECORD IS MADE BY STUDEBAKER

TAMPA, Fla., April 19.—A remarkable seven-day, 168-hour, non-stop run of 3,101 miles, just completed here by a Studebaker Light-Six touring car, is causing widespread comment among motorists in this vicinity.

Eighteen drivers handled the car during the run. Taking out the time required for changing drivers, the Light-Six actually covered the 3,101 mile in 147 hours. Gasoline consumption averaged 21 miles a gallon and more than 300 miles per quart of oil were obtained.

Running continuously day in and day out, and forced to idle down constantly in congested traffic, the car's radiator thirsted for only one additional teacup of water.

Buick Factory Has Own School

FLINT, Mich., April 19.—"It is impossible for you men to realize the value of this training which you have received, and what it would have been worth to us older men twenty five years ago."

In the above words H. H. Bassett, President of the Buick Motor Company, brought strikingly to the attention of a graduating class from the Flint Institute of Technology the superior advantages enjoyed by the youth of today. Mr. Bassett's remark prefaced an interesting address which he delivered to the students accompanying the presentation of diplomas.

There were fourteen men in the class, each fitted by training to return to the thirteen states which they represented, knowing just how Buick cars should be sold and serviced. Each man was fully impressed with the fact that "Buickization" means not only fullest attention to the customer before and during the sale of a car, but the continuation of interest throughout the period of its ownership.

The Flint Institute of Technology is endowed by the Buick Motor Company, its faculty including Buick executives as well as instructors who devote their entire time to the school.

Enthusiasm Held Necessary In Life

Enthusiasm is one great factor in success. It is important especially because it helps a man to get a start.

Unfortunately, enthusiasm is a quality most difficult to cultivate. It is a part of a man's own self, like his dark hair or regular features, or wide shoulders. Yet even enthusiasm can be cultivated, and it should be cultivated, says Arthur Brisbane in the Detroit Times.

Enthusiasm is largely a matter of vitality, health and strength.

Get up in the morning after eight hours' good sleep, and you will be enthusiastic—ready to attack any proposition. Get up with five hours' sleep after a night foolishly spent, and you will have no strength for enthusiasm. Cultivate your strength and save it; train yourself to look enthusiastically at the world.

It might be added: "Drive a Chevrolet."

PEERLESS PLANT IS WORKING OVERTIME

The factory of the Peerless Motor Car Company is working both day and night shifts in an effort to keep pace with the increased demand for Peerless automobiles, both Eights and Sixes.

The regular day force, which is larger than at any time during the last twelve months, is working an extra hour overtime every day, and every Saturday afternoon as well.

A night force, which has recently been added, will probably continue to operate all summer, according to Peerless factory officials.

EASE OF OPERATION APPEALS TO WOMEN

How the woman motorist, knowing nothing about the mechanism of an automobile, regards advances in mechanical construction is interestingly shown in prize-winning letters submitted to the Chandler distributor at San Francisco.

During Traffic Transmission week, when Chandler's new clash-proof gearset was demonstrated to everyone who would accept the company's invitation to ride, the distributor offered cash prizes to the passenger who would best describe the merits of the device.

Most of the contestants were men; they went into the mechanical construction of the transmission in detail. Not so the women—they wrote of the effects of the new transmission, and their pleasure and comfort in driving a car free from the clashing and the uncertainties of the old-fashioned sliding gear transmission.

Oakland Officials Predicting "Rush"

"Business conditions are fundamentally sound."

"Not a single permanent factor did we encounter that would militate against motor car sales at least as large as last year.

"The unseasonable weather of March, which has probably been more nation-wide than in years, is the only outstanding factor that prevented as large a sale in this month as was expected.

"We now expect brisk, quick buying from now on.

C. J. Nephler, general sales manager of Oakland, who has returned with George H. Hannum, president of the company gave these conclusions after a three weeks trip through the large cities of the northwest and west.

Luxuries Yesterday, Necessities Today

Trends in the automobile business furnish ample proof that the luxuries of yesterday are the necessities of today. More and more the public is demanding cars containing every accessory that has proven its worth. In response to this demand the Olds Motor Works, Lansing, Mich., is offering the DeLuxe Sedan—the sport model of the closed car field.

Reports from dealers have shown a growing desire on the part of the purchasing public for a closed car as completely equipped as the open car sport models. As this demand grew, the Olds Motor Works decided to save Oldsmobile purchasers a part of the retail price of accessories and all of the cost of installation by placing all the wanted accessories on the car as standard equipment.

Willys-Overland Factory Nuggets

After the 2500 parts for an automobile have been manufactured and then put into the motor and various other units, eighty-four additional operations are performed at the Willys-Overland factory at Toledo to assemble these units into one complete car, ready for use by the buyer.

About 450 different workers take part in the assembly and completion of an automobile at the Willys-Overland factory, after the 2500 parts have been manufactured.

The 15,000 different operations involved in the manufacture of current models at the Willys-Overland auto factory are classified into eighty-one distinct groups.

The assembly of a motor car at the Willys-Overland factory requires approximately 2 1-2 hours from the time the job starts until the car is completed and ready for final inspection and test.

By operating five assembly lines extending over a total of 4,715 feet, the Willys-Overland factory is able to have 349 motor cars under construction at one time. This gives a production capacity of about 1,000 cars per eight-hour working day, as the assembly of a single car is done in approximately 2 1-2 hours.

LOCAL BATTERY MERCHANT PIONEER IN MOVEMENT

The question as to whether it is fair for the battery dealer to charge non-customers for battery inspection and minor service is discussed by Mr. John Streicher of the Elyria Storage Battery. Mr. Streicher, who has always believed it not only ethical but good policy for the service men to charge a very small fee.

Buick Value—The Measure of Automobile Values

People now-a-days measure automobile values on the basis of Buick value. How often you hear such remarks as: "It's not nearly as good as Buick". People make these remarks both consciously and unconsciously. Consciously, because they actually know Buick value either from their own experience or that of their friends; unconsciously, because for twenty years Buick has been the accepted standard of the industry. Good reasons, both, why you should own a Buick.

Franklin Publishes Paper For Salesmen

The Franklin Automobile Co. has recently inaugurated a new publication for retail salesmen. It is called "The Issue" and takes its name from the fact that all its energies will be devoted to interpreting the issue between air-cooling and water-cooling in terms of results to the automobile buying public.

This publication points out that all the superiorities claimed for the Franklin car, comfort, ease of handling, road-ability, long life and economy, are directly attributed to the use of the air-cooled motor.

IN THE DAY'S NEWS

Francis J. Heney, who is to be employed as special counsel to conduct the Senate investigation of the Internal Revenue Bureau, is the well-known California lawyer, whose service in investigating corrupt conditions in politics and in big business have earned for him a national reputation. He first came into wide prominence by his service for the Federal government in prosecuting the land-fraud cases in Oregon, which led to the conviction of men high in political authority. Later he again served the cause of the people in his professional and civic conduct as a citizen of San Francisco when that community endeavored to rid itself of the grip on it which corporations and corrupt politicians had. In this controversy he became a national figure. New York is Mr. Henry's native State, and the University of California his alma mater. He has been active in politics and was one of the founders of the Progressive party.

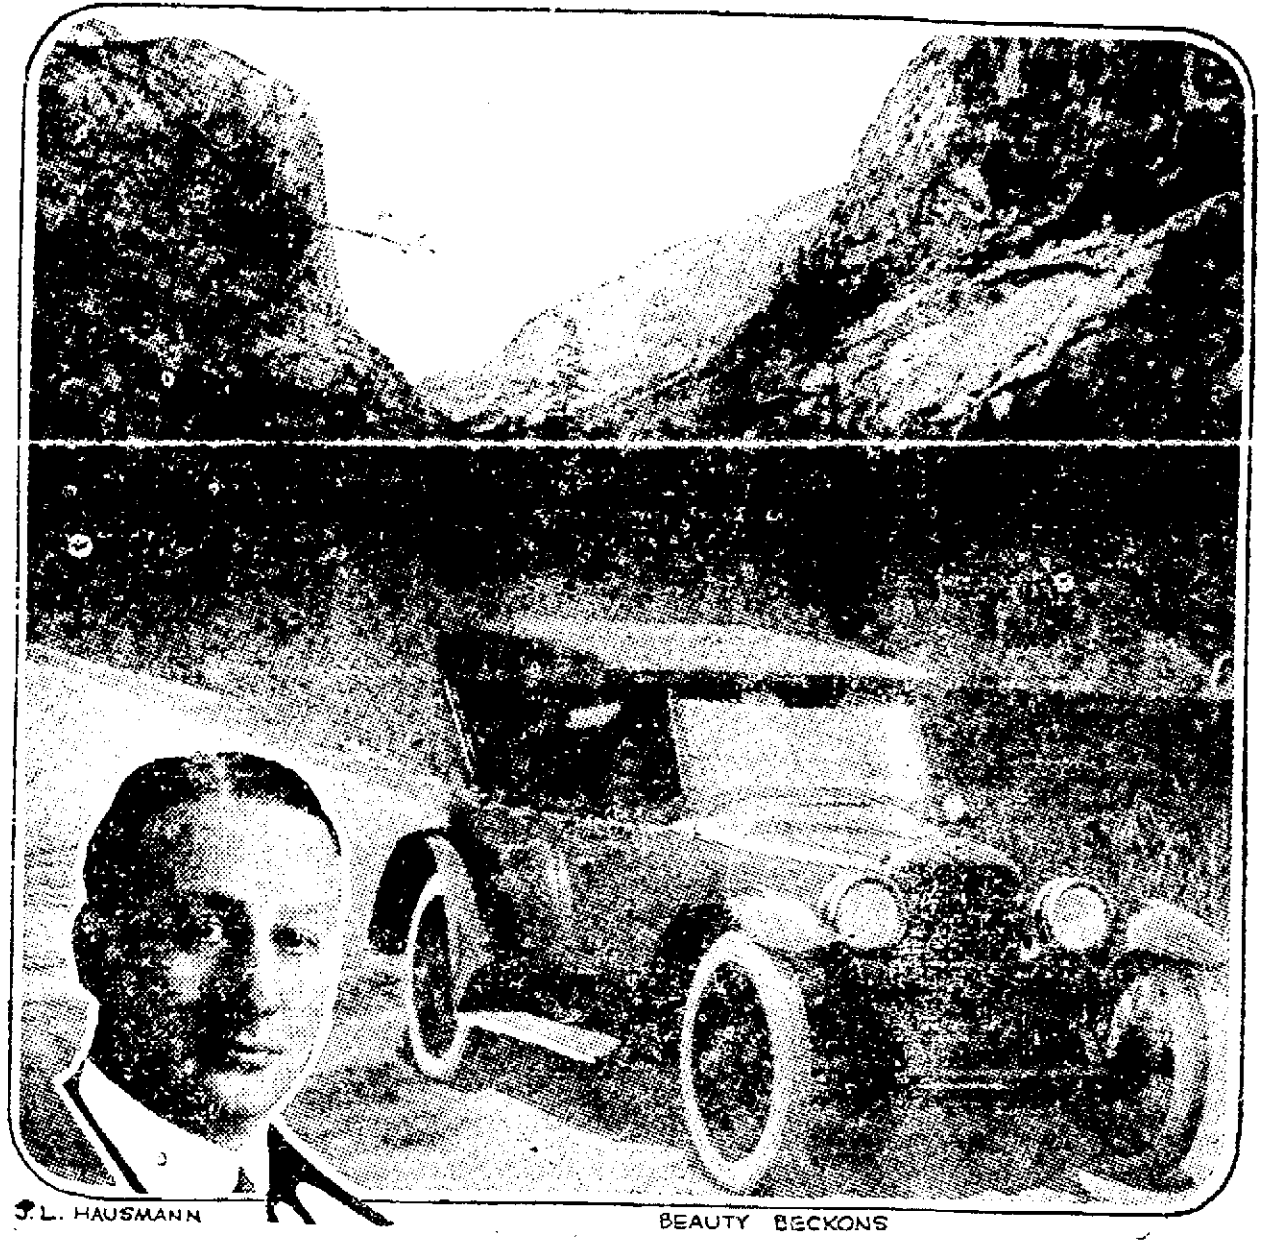
Warm Days Call Motorists to Trails of Romance



T. L. HAUSMANN BEAUTY BECKONS

CHICAGO—With the approach of pleasant weather, the call of the trail is already in the air. Soon the highways of the nation will be swarming with motor tourists speeding toward romance and adventure. Transcontinental automobile travel this season bids fair to be the heaviest in history, according to T. L. Hausmann, president of the reorganized Templar Motor Car Company of Cleveland.

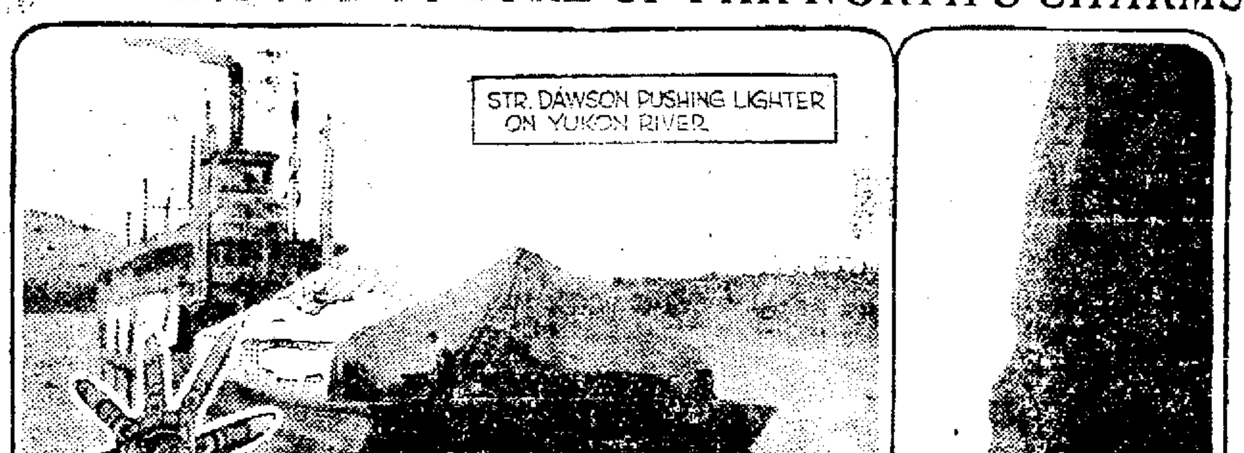
"I base this prediction largely on the fact that every succeeding year has broken all previous records," said Mr. Hausmann in an address here. "Transcontinental highways, moreover, are getting better and better each year and increased traffic is bringing about better accommodations for tourists, more adequate hotels, inns, garages, service stations and camp sites.

"Tourists traveling over the Lincoln Highway from New York to San Francisco will find a total of 361 miles of new construction completed during the past year. Of the 3,142 miles of this national thoroughfare, 2,500 miles are considered good for all-year use. Within five years, an all-weather route should be open from coast to coast.

"The increase in cross-country touring is bringing new ideals to the automobile industry. The movement has definitely set in for a longer-life car, as in the case of the Templar which we are building to give 100,000 miles of road service and still be a good car. Since the automobile has become a means of transportation for everybody, the idea of an annual trade-in is being discarded. It is too expensive to car owners, the majority of whom are persons of moderate means.

"In building the Templar for long life with a two-year guarantee on its engine and one-year guarantee on axles, we are only keeping up with public demands. The dealer is the link between public and manufacturer and the national Templar dealers' association which gives the dealer a voice and vote in all manufacturing and merchandising policies, insures the embodiment of the public's ideas in Templar cars."

AN EVER GROWING HOST OF SUMMER TOURISTS RESPOND TO LURE OF FAR NORTH'S CHARMS



STR. DAWSON PUSHING LIGHTER ON YUKON RIVER

INDIAN FAMILY TREE

The thousand-mile voyage from Vancouver, British Columbia, to Skagway, Alaska, grows yearly more popular and the demand for passages is so heavy that the Canadian Pacific, whose "Princesses" are the most favored ships for this trip, is now having built in England, two larger and more luxurious boats for its Pacific Coast service. These vessels will be assigned to what is termed the triangular route, operating between Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle, and their entrance into this service will release the Princesses Charlotte and Louise for the Alaskan run, now served by the Princesses Mary, Alice and Louise. The latter is a new ship put into service January, 1922.

The round voyage covers nine days, but most tourists prefer to stop over for a later boat, for Alaska is a land of magnificent distances and charms. In order to get a comprehensive idea of this vast country, one should spend at least a month there. The first stop after leaving Vancouver, is Alert Bay, a village on Cormorant Bay. It is famous for its totem poles, for its population is largely Indian. The squaws, or "klootchmen" as they are called on the west coast, squat along the board walk and pier offering their handiwork of mats, baskets, moccasins and bead work.

After crossing Queen Charlotte Sound, Prince Rupert, Canada's most northerly important port is reached. Much of the fish that appears on the tables of the world, is shipped from this port. Between Prince Rupert and Ketchikan, the last strip of open water is passed. On the left hand a glimpse of the Pacific is seen through Dixon's Entrance, while on the other hand are the settlements of Old and New Metlakatla. Ketchikan fronts on United States water, and a stop there permits visits to the town's stores and a pretty waterfall. In the late summer, hordes of salmon may be seen leaping up the fall on their way to their spawning beds.

Wrangell, named after a one-time Russian governor, on the Stikine River, is a worth while town and a short distance beyond it the ship enters Wrangell Narrows. Juneau, the capital, sitting on its hilly site, is the next attraction, after which the passage of Lynn Canal is made and Skagway reached. Among the best known points of interest in Alaska are Taku Glacier, the trip over White Pass by rail, lovely Lake Bennett, Miles Canyon and White Horse Canyon. If one has time and means to allow further wanderings, the trip from White Horse to Dawson in the Klondyke, is one long to be remembered. Many of Alaska's old-timers consider it a pleasure to point out features reminiscent of the gold rush days and there are numerous side trips for the leisurely tourist.

That is why the Sport Touring is in such great demand. Its very apparent extra value offers too great a buying opportunity to be overlooked.

LOCAL SOCCERS PLAY LORAIN TUBES SUN.

The tid bit of the Soccer season will be the game to be played Sunday at Richwine field between the Elyria soccer team and the National Tubes of Lorain, who are leading the Cleveland League to date. Lorain has lost but one game this season, that being to Rocky River, who beat them two to one. Elyria lost to Rocky River by the score of one to nothing.

The Upson Nuts of Cleveland played a tie game with Rocky River and Elyria [illegible] Nuts two goals to one, so a [illegible] game can be looked for.

If the Tubes win this game it will no doubt cinch the championship for them. The locals will put forth their strongest team for this game, all of whom have been in strict training for the event.

The kick-off is timed for 2:30 and a Cleveland referee will take charge of the game.

TAGGING THE BASES

After giving a very nifty exhibition for eight innings, Ray Kremer, coast league recruit of the pirates, staked the Reds to a [illegible] run rally and lost 3 to 2. The Reds obliged with seven errors.

The Indians welcomed Cole with a shower of base hits in the third for enough runs to beat the Tigers, 5 to 3 in the finale of the series. Passes and errors accounted for all the Tigers' runs off Edwards.

Just to prove that time cannot wither nor custom stale, Eddie Collins drove out three hits, one a homer, scored two runs, handled nine chances without a mis-cue and altogether made himself conspicuous in the five to one victory of the White Sox over the Browns.

Home runs by Grimes and Miller in the second started the Cubs on a rampage that ended with a six to three decision over the Cardinals. Hornsby also waited one beyond the park limits but in vain.

In the early days of baseball a club to be the winner had to score 21 runs, without regard to the number of innings played. Not until 1857 was the game divided into nine innings.

HART STARTS CAMPAIGN TO GET CRACK LEONARD'S CROWN

If you decided to enter the fistic game would you elect to swap punches with such a list of [illegible] leather pushers as:

George Chaney.
Johnny Dundee.
Rocky Kansas.
Danny Kramer.
Lew Tendler.
Sailor Friedman.
Benny Leonard.

Nice sweet little group that. Chaney carries a string of knockouts longer than a sausage [illegible]. Lew Tendler's southpaw punching once threatened Benjamin Leonard's lightweight title and raised havoc generally in that class.

Johnny Dundee reigns supreme in the featherweight class by [illegible].

Danny Kramer carries TNT in both fists and touches it off with machine gun like regularity.

And Sailor Friedman wasn't in school the day the teacher passed out the [illegible] to good manners or how to be kind to your brothers.

Well, Alex Hart, Lorain, O., boy, passed up a chance to enter business in his home town to wade into this outfit. In fact, he was so anxious to cultivate a punching acquaintance with them that he moved to Philadelphia and begged a fight manager to introduce him to the aforementioned birds.

Today Hart looms up as one of the toughest birds in the lightweight ranks.

He boasted a victory over Dundee. He turned the tables on Chaney after George had halted him the first time they met.

Kramer, Kansas and Friedman have [illegible] him.

He gave Lew Tendler such a strong argument that Lew's victory over him did not hurt the Ohio lad's prestige.

And Hart isn't contented yet. He still has designs on Benny

Alex Hart.

Leonard.

The first time they met, last summer, Hart was by no means outclassed. Leonard fought a cautious though a confident battle against him. Hart, however, believes he can make a better showing against the champ in a second bout. It is to this end—a battle with the king—that he has started his summer campaign early.

Hart has picked on Sailor Friedman for his first victim. The pair have been matched for one of the principal bouts at the re-opening of the professional boxing game in the public hall at Cleveland, April 23.

Several games were played during the spring practice and the results indicate that Ohio Wesleyan will have a line second to none in the state next year providing misfortune does not carry off any of the huskies before next fall.

THE EASTER FESTIVAL

Easter with its hope of the immortal life is again before us. There are many crass views of the future life extant today. Some of them hold to a view of immortality which adds an additional terror to death itself. They are as materialistic and sordid as much of the life of this world is.

Yet with all this crassness, Easter is a most welcome festival. It does kindle hope of seeing those whom we have loved long since and lost awhile. It does place upon our frail humanity the stamp of immortality. It does rob the grave of many of its terrors. It does make mankind the creature of one world with another to attend him.

The supreme value of this Easter season is to impress the world with the value of the immortal idealism of the teachings of Jesus. What is good cannot die. There shall never be one lost good. And that refers not only to good ideas and ideals, but also to the personalities who were devoted to them. This, it seems to us, is the phase of the Easter hope and joy which is too little thought of. There are too many who are bothering their heads about how Jesus rose from the dead, whether with His natural body or His spiritual body. There is too much lingering about the open sepulchre, instead of heeding the Master's advice to go into Galilee and into all the world to save the peoples and redeem the world. There is too much speculation about the kind of a heaven we are to inherit, and the class of people who are going to have a happy admission to it.

There is something about the inspiring Easter music that lifts us. It is much that there is one day of the year when people think of the world which lies beyond. We cannot underestimate the need in the mind of man of the assurance that he is not the creature only of today, and the value of the great thought that he carries eternity in his heart. The Easter thought is the most precious that comes to our attention. In our most serious moods, when the world loses its charm, and life sinks toward the close, it is the Easter thought that still puts nerve in the arm and fire in the heart.

"PARASITES AND PUBLIC SERVICE"

"It is the opinion of Senator John F. Burke of Elyria, delivered before the Cincinnati Woman's City Club, that there are just as many honest men in public life as in private station. That is, computed on a percentage basis.

"The judgment probably is entirely just. And if we take the employee class of public service, inclusive of women and men together, it will be found that the public-service proportion of the population is impressive. That, indeed, there is much honesty, however much surplus and however lacking may be efficiency, and however much unconscious or somewhat selfish imposition the office-holding class may in its multiplication inflict upon the heavily burdened taxpayers.

"Recent compilations of figures furnish the information that, taking the nation, state, county and city political service throughout the United States, there are 3,400,000 persons feeding at the public cribs. The annual cost of the provender paid by the public in salaries and wages is roundly set down at $3,820,000,000. Putting it another way, taking wage-earners above the age of adolescence, every twelfth one will be found on the public pay-roll.

"Now it hardly successfully can be contended that the mobilization of this vast army of public-place holders is justified by popular necessity. Far from it. It is an undisputed and an undisputable fact that a large proportion of them are political parasites, fastened upon the body politic in maintenance of party organization.

"Is this dishonesty? Yes, but not always consciously so on the part of the placeholder. Politics educates its personal integrals in the conviction that party service is entitled to public favors. It is a vicious doctrine, but the teachers rather than the pupils are apt to be conscious of its lack of honor. In the main the average public servant thinks he gives honest service. It is his purpose to do so. But the crowding of pay-rolls and the rewarding of incompetents make for inefficiency. That isn't honest.

"The sum of the matter is that Senator Burke is right when he concludes that, while the proportion of honesty as consciously conceived may be as large in public place as in private station, there is great need for a revival of the religion of honesty in public service."—Cincinnati, Ohio, "Tribune."

Statistics tell us the State of Pennsylvania used more gas in 1922 than any other state in the Union. One guess, and we bet the District of Columbia will lead off for 1924.

THE WAY OF THE WORLD
By GROVE PATTERSON

Millionaire Bradshaw of St. Louis, has learned something about human nature and it has cost him a lot of money. He built a two-million dollar hotel for bachelors in his home city. He says his friends told him that men would appreciate and pay more to live in a place where women were barred. Bradshaw says he has learned that such talk is 'pure bunk." So he has changed his mind and his plans. He will add a $75,000 ballroom to his hotel—and women will be welcomed as guests. All of us make mistakes in our judgment of human nature Not many of us pay two million dollars to be set right.

A woman writes to a newspaper to ask what chance a woman past thirty has to enter on a business career. Men who have had the most experience with women employes will tell her that her chances are better past thirty than under twenty-five. The greater number of women in business work for men. Men like to find judgment in women. They like to find sensible application to the job. They like efficiency and are willing to pay for it. Women past thirty are more likely to have those qualities than women under twenty-five. No woman past thirty who faces life in business should be discouraged.

Plays, lectures, entertainments that used to begin at 8 o'clock in the evening now begin at 8:30. In New York and some other cities it is nearly nine, sometimes, when the curtain rises. Young folks find ten o'clock a reasonable hour to reach the dance. In the last few years the tendency has been to move affairs from late to later. It is a bad tendency. Under the policy of our grandfathers the day was for work and the night for rest. We do well to heed the natural law that governs sunlight and shadow. An old proverb says that more people admire the rising than the setting sun. Not now. Few of us know much about the rising sun.

John E. Andrus, millionaire banker who lives in a New York suburb rides dozens of miles every day on the subway to and from his Wall street office. He prefers the subway although he is eighty-two years old He says: "It is the cheapest ride. The sun does not shine on another spot of ground where you can get so much for your money as in the subway." His ride costs him a nickel. But in proving his case Mr. Andrus suggests what is the matter with the subway. He speaks about the sun. The trouble with the subway is that the sun isn't there. Most people at eighty-two, worth several million dollars, would stay in the sunshine as much of the time as they could. There will be little enough of it.

TIMELY VIEWS ON WORLD TOPICS

"U. S. IS BUNGLING JOB OF DIRECTING HUMAN EVOLUTION."

The duty of the good citizens to support restrictive immigration legislation and the maintenance of the purity of the white race in America was insisted upon by Dr. Ivey F. Lewis, Miller Professor of Biology of the University of Virginia, in a recent address on "What Biology Says to the Man of Today"

In introducing his subject Dr. Lewis traced the growth of the interest of the average American in the biological aspects of human problems. He showed also that the scientist and the layman alike had come to see that racial survival was no longer that of the fittest, but was becoming confined to the less successful. He gave figures to demonstrate that the birth rate among the intelligent members of the Commonwealth was on the decrease at an alarming rate, while that of the lower groups of the population was on the increase.

"The one clear message that biological investigation has brought as its gift to the thought of the twentieth century is that the idea of environment molding something out of nothing is sheer nonsense," said Dr. Lewis. "What goes into the hereditary mill is what comes out of it. Education and opportunity can do great things. They can bring out the best in a man, but what is in him to be brought out is a matter of heredity.

No Such Thing as a Melting Pot

"This disproved theory of the creative environment has been put forth in siren tones until the idea of the great American melting pot, into which one can put the refuse of three continents and draw out good, sound American citizens, has reached wide acceptance It is simply and perilously false. There is no such thing as a melting pot.

"The qualities of mind and body, good or bad, do not fuse and melt in the mixed breed They may be shuffled and recombined, but they all come out in the wash unchanged.

"The citizen of tomorrow! Is there any problem facing our statesmen to compare in importance with this? Our country will be what it is tomorrow because of the citizen of today. We have undertaken the direction of human evolution. As the present moment we are bungling the job What is happening in the United States is insuring with tragic finality that the next generation will be less capable of bearing its burdens than the present one. Since 875 we have been doing nearly everything possible to insure racial decay. The falling birth rate has been accomplished among the better classes. Unrestricted immigration has diluted our stock with millions of unassimilated aliens"

POEMS THAT LIVE

MY CREED

I hold that Christian grace abounds
Where charity is seen; that when
We climb to heaven 'tis on the rounds
Of love to men.

I hold all else named piety
A selfish scheme, a vain pretense;
Where center is not—can there be Circumference?

This I morover hold, and dare
Affirm where'er my rhyme may go—
Whatever things be sweet or fair
Love makes them so.

Whether it be the lullabies
That charm to rest the nursling bird,
Or the sweet confidence of sighs
And blushes made without a word.

Whether the dazzling and the flush
Of softly sumptuous garden bowers,
Or by some cabin door a bush
Of ragged flowers.

'Tis not the wide phylactery,
Nor stubborn fast, nor stated prayers,
That makes us saints; we judge the tree
By what it bears.

And when a man can live apart
From works, on theologic trust,
I know the blood about his heart
Is dry as dust.

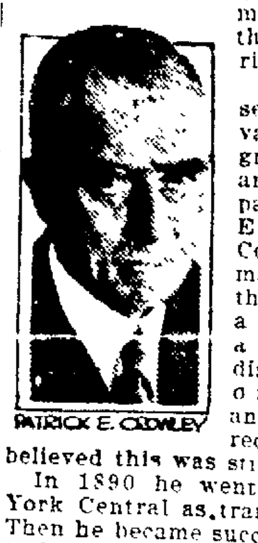
PATRICK E. CROWLEY

Like many other railroad presidents Patrick E. Crowley, recently elected president of the New York Central Railroad Co., rose from the ranks.

Without completing the grammer grades in school, he entered the employ of the Erie in 1878 as telegraph messenger at $5 a month. From that time on his rise was steady.



PATRICK E. CROWLEY

From messenger he advanced to telegraph operator and train dispatcher for the Erie Railroad Company. He maintained at that time that a man could be a good train dispatcher without swearing and reiterated recently that he believed this was still true.

During Government control he was Federal manager of the New York Central

Mr. Crowley will be 60 years old next August having been born in Cattaraugus, N. Y., in 1864 His leaning toward railroad work he attributes to the fact that his father, Dennis Crowley, was a railroad man.

Good things are always saved till last, that is why we have for our last sketch one who needs no introduction, Hubert Kellogg Day, the brains and big gun back of the whole works. Leaving High School at the close of his second year, Kellogg, in 1897, entered Dad's Hardware Store, to take up almost at once, the task of building up a business which is now nearly ten times as great as when he started. His cheerful manner, his willingness to help in every cause, and his keen foresight, soon made him known to many, in fact, almost everyone knows Kellogg. After 23 years as the active manager of the Hardware Store, he assumed, in March, 1921, the management of the then newly opened Day's Music Store, where he has put most of his efforts since. He is the originator and editor of the Day's News, Secretary of the Fish & Game Ass'n., Treasurer of the Northern Ohio Ass'n. of Talking Machine Dealers, member of the Rotary and Masonic Clubs, a sportsman who likes to fish and hunt as well as a fair shot at the clay birds. World's Most Famous Actress Succumbs To Attack Of Influenza

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 21.—The curtain went down for the last time in the life play of Mme. Eleanora Duse, the 64 year old famous Italian tragedienne at 2:30 o'clock this morning when she died at a local hotel here after suffering two weeks from influenza. Dr. Charles J. Barone, and the honorable Catherine Onslow, the actress' companion were at the bedside when the end came, according to the hotel attaches.

"Le Duse's" death was unexpected as it was reported late yesterday that she was somewhat improved.

Greeted With Cheers

Madame Duse's last appearance before the public was in this city April fifth, when she appeared in "The Closed Door" to an enthusiastic audience. It was a few days after this performance that the actress was stricken with influenza, and was forced to cancel the rest of her engagements in the United States. She showed some improvement and seemed to be out of danger when last Wednesday there was a turn for the worse and on account of her age, her doctor said he could not predict the outcome.

Mme. Duse on May 6, 1921, after being in retirement as an actress for fifteen years appeared in Turin, Italy, in "Ibsen's lady of the Sea" before an enthusiastic and distinguished audience which greeted her with frantic cheers, shouting "Viva Le Duse," "Viva Italia."

Madame Duse was born in a wagon, near Vigevano Pavia that carried strolling players from place to place in Italy. She appeared on the stage when 12 years old in minor parts.

At the age of 20 she won recognition in Naples, as an actress of great power. Madame Duse came to America in 1893. She married Signor Chicci, a member of her company from whom she separated in South America some years later, when Chicci abandnoed the stage to become consul general to Argentina.

Death Unexpected

The change for the worse in Mme. Duse's condition was so sudden and unexpected that all of her attendants were unprepared for the final scenes. Guido Carreras her personal manager and Mario Galli, secretary of the Duse Company, issued statements on Saturday night declaring reports of her illness had been exagerated and an air of hopefulness was expressed about the sick room yesterday.

Dr. Farone visited his patient last night and watched until her death. He was in a dead sleep this morning, exhausted from his efforts to keep the spark of life burning in the great tragedienne.

The body will be taken to New York then sent to Mme. Duse's home in Italy, it was announced this afternoon.

FIVE INJURED IN TRAFFIC MISHAPS

Motorcycle and Auto Collide; Machines Come Together; Elyrian Thinks His Car Was Sideswiped; One Taken to Hospital

Sunday afternoon an automobile driven by William Davis, 124 Harwood street, was overturned on the Telegraph road. Davis and his wife, with a neighbor were in the car, but they were but little injured. He believes his car was side swiped by another car as it passed, causing the accident.

An auto accident took place early Sunday morning on the Cleveland road three miles east of the city. Autos driven by James Kilkarry and Richard Grover, each machine containing a man companion and two girls all of Cleveland, came together. Kilkarry was thrown out of his machine, and was later taken to Memorial hospital by the entire party. A physician was called and he reported that he was only badly bruised and was not seriously hurt.

Albert Brouse, 238 Princeton avenue, and Fred Haskinson, 114 Warren avenue, was injured late last night when their motorcycle collided with Ed Robson's auto at the corner of East avenue and Broad street. The boys were going east on Broad street and Robson was driving north from East avenue. Both Brouse and Haskinson was scratched up but not seriously hurt. Their motorcycle was wrecked.

CONTEND THAW IS STILL INSANE

Specialist Contends Slayer of Stanford White Is Suffering With Moral Insanity But Says There Are "No Evidence of Intellectual Insanity"

PHILADELPHIA, April 21.—"Harry K. Thaw in my opinion has not been restored to a normal state of mind. If released, I believe he would again commit some abnormal act."

Dr. Charles W. Burr, of Philadelphia, specialist in mental and nervous diseases in the University of Pennsylvania made these statements on the witness stand today in the Thaw sanity trial. Dr. Burr was the first witness.

"Still Dangerous"

Dr. Burr said that he had at the request of Arthur Dickson, attorney for Thaw estate examined Thaw three times.

"Thaw is suffering from moral insanity, although there was no evidence of intellectual insanity," he testified.

"Physically Thaw is in excellent condition."

"Thaw converses in a rather rational way, I found, although at times he becomes confused.

"I don't think Thaw can take care of himself. He probably would commit some abnormal act if released from discipline."

Thaw listened to Dr. Burr's testimony intently. The slayer of Stanford White was carefully groomed. He wore a neat dark blue suit. He took a seat at his counsel's table.

The court room was packed to capacity with men and women. It was warm and Thaw constantly mopped his face with his handkerchief.

Mrs. Copley Thaw, 82 year old mother of Harry Thaw arrived in the court room while Dr. Burr was in the midst of his testimony. She was heavily veiled.

Proceedings were stopped while Mrs. Thaw took a seat among the spectators up in front. She glanced at her son affectionately and he flashed a smile back at her.

Dr. Theodore Weisenburg, of Philadelphia, a neurologist, was the second witness. He testified he examined Thaw on several occasions at the request of attorney's for the Thaw estate and

TRAFFIC SIGNS TO BE PLACED

Safety director James Hewett today announced that congested district traffic signs will be placed on the main arteries leading into the city. The signs will be placed at East Broad street, West Bridge street, East and West avenues, notifying the public that they have entered the congested district and must observe traffic rules. This plan will compel a better observance of the rules and the director states that police men will be instructed to see that the rules are observed. Flagrant violations of the speed laws are still going on and if they are not stopped at once arrests will follow he said.

ELYRIA HOME RANSACKED

Chas. L. Morse, 522 East avenue, reported to the police last night that while himself and wife were absent during the evening someone broke into their home and thoroughly ransacked the rooms. Entrance was gained by climbing upon the one-story rear part of the house and breaking a second story window. Thus far the family have missed $1.50 in money, several old coins, a suit of clothing, a rain coat and overcoat and a traveling bag.

IS HE SANE?

While Philadelphia is accepting it as a foregone conclusion that Harry Thaw will win the freedom from an insane asylum he is energetically seeking, alienists are battling with each other over the question of whether Thaw should be set at large. Some of them say he will be a menace as long as he is free to do as he pleases. They see in the present trial the influence of his millions, and point to the fact that a poor man in Thaw's mental state would never be liberated.

Lorain Man, Facing Sentence, Suicides; 2nd Ends Life Here

Despondent over family trouble, and because he had been indicted by the last grand jury, Mike Marko, 42, hung himself this morning in the basement of his home at 1545, East 29th street, Lorain.

An hour later his body was found by a boarder who was returning home from work.

A few weeks ago Marko was sued for divorce by his wife. Then he gave her a terrible beating and the grand jury indicted him on an assault and battery charge, and he was notified to be in court this morning by his bondsman. It is believed that he became discouraged and took his life. He left a note telling the court to divide his property. It is understood that he has three children in the old country.

Find Body Here.

The body of an unknown man, who may have been dead for a week, was found hanging by the neck in the old Belting company plant on the Abbe road, last night about six o'clock. The body was found by Frank and George Hall, of 146 Abbe road, as they were walking through the building.

The man had taken a window cord from a window, tied a regular hangman's noose, placed the cord around an iron pipe near the ceiling and jumped off after putting the cord around his neck. The cord slipped so that when found his knees touched the ground.

The police and coroner Miles Perry were called and the body was ordered taken to Carl Taylor's undertaking establishment. The man is about 28 years of age, weighs 150 pounds, blue eyes, light complexion, sandy hair, and has a scar from the center of his forehead to the base of the nose. He had on an old torn suit of clothes and old overalls, with a badly worn pair of shoes on.

There was nothing on his person to indicate who he was and the body is being held awaiting identification.

VETO WILL NOT STOP BONUS PASSAGE

Senate to Approve Compensation Bill Late Today or Tuesday—Provides For Paid Up Insurance Policies

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Not even a presidential veto stood today in the way of a bonus for veterans of the world war.

The new soldiers bonus bill, providing paid up insurance policies for about four million veterans, having already received the o. k. of the house is scheduled for passage by the senate today or tomorrow by an overwhelming majority well over the necessary two thirds required to override a presidential veto.

President Coolidge's attitude toward the bill remained in doubt today, although the last official word from the White House was that he was opposed to a bonus in any form.

This announcement however, was made at a time when there was no talk of anything except a cash bonus, such as president Harding vetoed and unconfirmed reports have been current for several days, that Mr. Coolidge will approve the insurance plan, now supported by administration leaders in congress.

There is a feeling, too, that the president's opposition has been weakened by the notice served upon him by his lieutenants at the capital that they will be forced to vote against him, should he elect to exercise his right to veto. The Republican leaders in the senate declare that they have enough votes to nullify the veto and they are ready to use them.

THREE BLAZES CAUSE 12 DEATHS

Two Firemen Electrocuted at Montclair, N.J., While Eight Firemen and Civilian Are Crushed to Death at Chicago; Gas Blast Kills One, Burns Two at Toledo.

MONTCLAIR, N. J. April 19.—Two firemen were electrocuted today when a 2400 volt electric light wire blew against their faces as they fought a fire in a house.

The victims were captain Frank Muller, 38 and Joseph Tierney, 30, both attached to engine company number 2.

Society Belle Burned

TOLEDO, O., April 19.—Mrs. Anna Gordon is dead today and Mrs. Gertrude Stewart, Toledo society bell, wife of Fred Stewart vice president of the Commercial Savings Bank and a negro maid, Jetta Nazzard were seriously burned as a result of a gasoline explosion in the Stewart home late yesterday.

Probe Chicago Fire

CHICAGO, April 19.—While relatives, friends and volunteers feverishly searched the ruins, state and city officials today joined hands in penetrating inquiry into suspicious circumstances surrounding a fire, which destroying Curran Hall, a landmark of the west side, resulted in the death of eight city firemen, and one identified civilian and the injury of a score of other firemen. From tenants and neighbors the officials were trying to elicit information which would dovetail into a coherent. Whole stories which have been related of a tiny blaze suddenly turning into a conflagration, accompanied by explosions of quantities of benzine carried into the building only a few days ago, of insurance increased for no plausible reason a month past, of anger because two floors hda been leased to a negro church.

Fire truck 2, in the heart of the fight lost in dead, injured or missing, every man but one of its personnel.

The Victims

The dead are:

Captain Jack Brennan, Lieut. Frank Frosch, fireman Thomas Kelley, Samuel T. Warren, Michael Devine, Frank Levy, Edward Kersting, Jeremiah Callahan.

Although the property loss was only $250,000, the tragedy stunned the fire department, which had not been hit so severely since December 1910, when twenty one firemen lost their lives. Inability to control the flames was blamed on the fact that many of the companies were divided, part of their men having been sent to fight a stubborn fire in the Union stock yards which did more than $500,000 damage.

The fire had interesting sidelights.

Priest Rescues Bodies

The Rev. Father William Gorman, was in the headquarters of truck company 12 when the alarm came. He went to the scene in a taxicab, arriving just as his friends were buried in the wall's collapse. Borrowing a helmet, the [illegible] bricks, helped uncover the dead, and kneeling, prayed for the repose of their souls.

Relatives have not yet told the widow of fireman Kersting that he is dead. She is ill, and to her worries was added a sixty day eviction notice filed yesterday by her landlord.

Battalion chief Henry E. Kerr, answering the second alarm, had partly taken command when he was caught by flying bricks, his skull fractured and both legs broken. Taken to the county hospital he refused to be attended until some of his subordinates with lesser injuries had been treated.

The civilian who was killed, was identified by his wife as William Berh, who had [illegible] his home "to see what was doing" and had been caught by the falling wall.

AFTER AN OPERATION

Mrs. Wilke Couldn't Get Back Her Strength Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Rochester, Minn.—"I had a very serious operation and it seemed as if I could not get my health back after it. I suffered with pain almost constantly. My sister came to help take care of me, and she was taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nervousness and a run-down condition. She had me try some of it, and in a very few days' time I began to feel better. In two weeks I hardly knew myself and after taking a couple of bottles more I was up and helping around, and now I am strong and healthy again and am still taking it. It is a pleasure for me to write this to you, and I hope that many other women who are suffering like I was will find out about your medicine. I will give any information I possibly can."—Mrs. JAMES WILKE, 905 E. Center Street, Rochester, Minnesota.

Remember, the Vegetable Compound has a record of fifty years of success among American women.

SEIZE DOCTOR'S SUPPLY OF LIQUOR

DAYTON, O., April 19.—Honest to goodness drinking liquor of the pre-war variety worth more than $15,000 today is in the hands of Deputy Sheriffs and raiding constables.

The cargo includes old Kentucky Bourbon, French Brandy, Scotch Whiskey, Italian Champagne, Imported wines, ale made in Scotland and Ireland, and other tempting thirst chasers.

The officers say they found the supply in a specially constructed wine cellar in the home of Dr. Louis F. Bucher.

In 1920 Dr. Bucher resided in this city and moved to a new home on the Lebanon Pike. He obtained a government permit to move his liquors but officers are of the opinion that at least part of the seizure is not protected by the government permit, hence the raid. The authorities say they also found a quantity of home brew which they are confident is not protected by the federal permit.

The raiders waited for five hours for the doctor to return and unlock the door. For some reason they did not care to demolish the doctor's property, realizing, it is said, it would be ticklish business under the circumstances.

Dr. Bucher proposed to fight the case.

CHARGES ABUSE AT ORIENT, O., INSTITUTION

COLUMBUS, O., April 19.—Charges that boy inmates of the State Institution for Feeble Minded at Orient, near here, were brutally beaten and that one boy had been shot in the hand by employes were filed with Attorney General Crabbe today by A. G. Toops and W. O. Daniels, firemen at the institution.

William Sartain and Theodore Monnett, employees at the institution, were indicted by the Pickaway county grand jury for alleged ill treatment of Charles Waldon, Cecil Behr, Ed Peany, and Frank Czliskey, the affidavits stated.

Attorney General Crabbe said he will investigate the charges at once.

"THE RIVOLI" THEATRE OPENS

The doors of the Rivoli, formerly the Colonial moving picture house swung open this afternoon, and Manager John Pekras, was a mighty proud man as he looked over the handsome auditorium, spick and span in it's new Easter dress.

For several weeks workmen have been at work on the interior and a charming two color scheme has been evolved. The room is decorated in blue, gold and silver, and the lighting effects, all new sets everything off to advantage. The seats all have individual coverings as a protection to milady's dress. Aisle lights are on each chair, making it safe to find one's seat when the house is darkened. The ladies rest room has been refurnished with easy chairs, desk and reading lamps, and in fact the entire theatre has been made as complete as money could make it.

The new $10,000 organ, the only one of the kind in the State has been installed. It has tonal effects that gives the proper setting to the pictures as they are shown. It has every device and attachment known, and will be appreciated by all who love good music.

The opening picture is Harold Lloyd in "Girl Shy," and those who enjoy real humor will want to see it.

CONTENDS BALL BATTER WAS CARELESS

COLUMBUS, O., April 19.—Thousands of fans have accused almost as many ball players of batting in a "negligent and careless" manner, but until today the aid of the state's highest tribunal never was asked to decide whether the charge was true.

A case, filed today, rests largely upon the question of careless batting in the Cincinnati ball park. The Cincinnati baseball club seeks to have the state supreme court reverse a decision of the appellate court of Hamilton county, which decreed that the club pay Victoria Eno $2795 alleged damages, for being hit by a batted ball while in the grandstand on July 30, 1921.

The ball, which struck the woman, was hit in practice, by a player who was batting out flies to fielders. The ball club contended in the lower courts that spectators had the option of choosing screened seats, and, if they did not the risk was their own. This contention was upheld, but the appelate court also ruled that the batter was not occupying a regular position on the diamond, and that he struck the ball in a "careless and negligent manner."

Easter, the anniversary of our Lord's resurrection, has always been observed by the St. Paul's Church as a religious Holy Day of great importance

The St. Paul's Church lays emphasis on faith in Christ's Resurrection and believes that it is the foundation of all faith, the source of all new life, and a positive pledge of the future resurrection and perfection.

"If Christ had not been raised, your faith is vain, ye are yet in your sins Then they also which are fallen asleep in Christ have perished. But now hath Christ been raised from the dead, the first fruits of them that are asleep. For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead. That like as Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father so we also might walk in the newness of life.

JESUS CHRIST RESURRECTION OUR HOPE — Now if Christ be preach- [illegible] from the dead, how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead? But if there be no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen. And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain. Yea, and we are found false witnesses of God; because we have testified of God that he raised up Christ, whom he raised not up, if so be that the dead rise not. For if the dead rise not, then is not Christ raised: And if Christ be not raised your faith is vain; ye are yet in your sins. Then they also which are fallen asleep in Christ are perished. If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable. BUT NOW IS CHRIST RISEN FROM THE DEAD and become the first fruits of them that slept. — I Corinthians 15:12 to 20.

THREE BLAZES CAUSE 12 DEATHS

Two Firemen Electrocuted at Montclair, N.J., While Eight Firemen and Civilian Are Crushed to Death at Chicago; Gas Blast Kills One, Burns Two at Toledo.

MONTCLALIR, N. J. April 19.—Two firemen were electrocuted today when a 2400 volt electric light wire blew against their faces as they fought a fire in a house.

The victims were captain Frank Muller, 38 and Joseph Tierney, 30, both attached to engine company number 2.

Society Belle Burned

TOLEDO, O., April 19.—Mrs. Anna Gordon is dead today and Mrs. Gertrude Stewart, Toledo society bell, wife of Fred Stewart vice president of the Commercial Savings Bank and a negro maid, Jetta Nazzard were seriously burned as a result of a gasoline explosion in the Stewart home late yesterday.

Friction, caused by rubbing gas oline saturated silk curtains together, set off the gasoline and caused the flames which enveloped the three women.

Probe Chicago Fire

CHICAGO, April 19.—While relatives, friends and volunteers feverishly searched the ruins, state and city officials today joined hands in penetrating inquiry into suspicious circumstances surrounding a fire, which destroying Curran Hall, a landmark of the west side, resulted in the death of eight city firemen, and one identified civilian and the injury of a score of other firemen. From tenants and neighbors the officials were trying to elicit information which would dovetail into a coherent. Whole stories which have been related of a tiny blaze suddenly turning into a conflagration, accompanied by explosions of quantities of benzine carried into the building only a few days ago, of insurance increased for no plausible reason a month past, of anger because two floors hda been leased to a negro church.

Fire truck 2, in the heart of the fight lost in dead, injured or missing, every man but one of its personnel.

The Victims

The dead are:

Captain Jack Brennan, Lieut. Frank Frosch, fireman Thomas Kelley, Samuel T. Warren, Michael Devine, Frank Levy, Edward Kersting, Jeremiah Callahan.

Although the property loss was only $250,000, the tragedy stunned the fire department, which had not been hit so severely since December 1910, when twenty one firemen lost their lives. Inability to control the flames was blamed on the fact that many of the companies were divided, part of their men having been sent to fight a stubborn fire in the Union stock yards which did more than $500,000 damage.

The fire had interesting sidelights.

Priest Rescues Bodies

The Rev. Father William Gorman, was in the headquarters of truck company 12 when the alarm came. He went to the scene in a taxicab, arriving just as his friends were buried in the wall's collapse. Borrowing a helmet, the [illegible] bricks, helped uncover the dead, and kneeling, prayed for the repose of their souls.

Relatives have not yet told the widow of fireman Kersting that he is dead. She is ill, and to her worries was added a sixty day eviction notice filed yesterday by her landlord.

Battalion chief Henry E. Kerr, answering the second alarm, had partly taken command when he was caught by flying bricks, his skull fractured and both legs broken. Taken to the county hospital he refused to be attended until some of his subordinates with lesser injuries had been treated.

The civilian who was killed, was identified by his wife as William Berh, who had [illegible] his home "to see what was doing" and had been caught by the falling wall.

AFTER AN OPERATION

Mrs. Wilke Couldn't Get Back Her Strength Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Rochester, Minn.—"I had a very serious operation and it seemed as if I could not get my health back after it. I suffered with pain almost constantly. My sister came to help take care of me, and she was taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nervousness and a run-down condition. She had me try some of it, and in a very few days' time I began to feel better. In two weeks I hardly knew myself and after taking a couple of bottles more I was up and helping around, and now I am strong and healthy again and am still taking it. It is a pleasure for me to write this to you, and I hope that many other women who are suffering like I was will find out about your medicine. I will give any information I possibly can."—Mrs. JAMES WILKE, 933 E. Center Street, Rochester, Minnesota.

Remember, the Vegetable Compound has a record of fifty years of success among American women.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

SEIZE DOCTOR'S SUPPLY OF LIQUOR

DAYTON, O., April 19.—Honest to goodness drinking liquor of the pre-war variety worth more than $15,000 today is in the hands of Deputy Sheriffs and raiding constables.

The cargo includes old Kentucky Bourbon, French Brandy, Scotch Whiskey, Italian Champagne, Imported wines, ale made in Scotland and Ireland, and other tempting thirst chasers.

The officers say they found the supply in a specially constructed wine cellar in the home of Dr. Louis F. Bucher.

In 1920 Dr. Bucher resided in this city and moved to a new home on the Lebanon Pike. He obtained a government permit to move his liquors but officers are of the opinion that at least part of the seizure is not protected by the government permit, hence the raid. The authorities say they also found a quantity of home brew which they are confident is not protected by the federal permit.

The raiders waited for five hours for the doctor to return and unlock the door. For some reason they did not care to demolish the doctor's property, realizing, it is said, it would be ticklish business under the circumstances.

Dr. Bucher proposed to fight the case.

William Sartain and Theodore Monnett, employees at the institution, were indicted by the Pickaway county grand jury for alleged ill treatment of Charles Waldon, Cecil Behr, Ed Peany and Frank Czliskey, the affidavits stated.

Attorney General Crabbe said he will investigate the charges at once.

"THE RIVOLI" THEATRE OPENS

The doors of "The Rivoli" formerly the Colonial moving picture house swung open this afternoon, and Manager John Pekras, was a mighty proud man as he looked over the handsome auditorium, spick and span in it's new Easter dress.

For several weeks workmen have been at work on the interior and a charming two color scheme has been evolved. The room is decorated in blue, gold and silver, and the lighting effects, all new sets everything off to advantage. The seats all have individual coverings as a protection to milady's dress. Aisle lights are on each chair, making it safe to find one's seat when the house is darkened. CONTENDS BALL BATTER WAS CARELESS

COLUMBUS, O., April 19.—Thousands of fans have accused almost as many ball players of batting in a "negligent and careless" manner, but until today the head of the state's highest tribunal never was asked to decide whether the charge was true.

A case, filed today, rests largely upon the question of careless batting in the Cincinnati ball park. The Cincinnati baseball club seeks to have the state supreme court reverse a decision of the appellate court of Hamilton county, which decreed that the club pay Victoria Eno $2795 alleged damages, for being hit by a batted ball while in the grandstand on July 30, 1921.

The ball, which struck the woman, was hit in practice, by a player who was batting out flies to fielders. The ball club contended in the lower courts that spectators had the option of choosing screened seats, and, if they did not the risk was their own. This contention was upheld, but the appelate court also ruled that the batter was not occupying a regular position on the diamond, and that he struck the ball in a "careless and negligent manner."

AN EASTER PRAYER

A nun greets the advent of Easter with a prayer.

JESUS CHRIST RESURRECTION OUR HOPE — Now if Christ be preached from the dead, how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead? But if there be no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen. And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain. Yea, and we are found false witnesses of God; because we have testified of God that he raised up Christ whom he raised not up, if so be that the dead rise not. For if the dead rise not, then is not Christ raised: And if Christ be not raised your faith is vain, ye are yet in your sins. Then they also which are fallen asleep in Christ are perished If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable. BUT NOW IS CHRIST RISEN FROM THE DEAD and become the first fruits of them that slept. — I Corinthians 15 12 to 20.

St. Paul's Evangelical Church

Easter, the anniversary of our Lord's resurrection, has always been observed by the St. Paul's Church as a religious Holy Day of great importance.

The St. Paul's Church lays emphasis on faith in Christ's Resurrection and believes that it is the foundation of all faith, the source of all new life, and a positive pledge of the future resurrection and perfection.

"If Christ had not been raised, your faith is vain, ye are yet in your sins. Then they also which are fallen asleep in Christ have perished. But now hath Christ been raised from the dead, the first fruits of them that are asleep. For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead. That like as Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father so we also might walk in the newness of life.

COVERED WAGON COMING TO RIALTO

Historical Masterpiece to Show Twice Daily, On May 1, 2 and 3 — Had Year's Run in New York

"The Covered Wagon" is announced for the Rialto Theatre for three days, twice daily, commencing Thursday evening, May 1st.

On the occasion of its solid year's run on Broadway, it marked a new record in the era of moving pictures, and was given an ovation by the dramatic critics of New York City. Not only has every city of any importance in the United States been given an opportunity of seeing this epic production of the Oregon Trail, but London and Paris are also receiving it with enthusiasm.

The record run of "The Covered Wagon" should refute the undeserved criticism made by some scoffers earlier in the season, that it was nothing more or less than a glorified "Western picture, one of those Redskin-bite-the-dust" things that were prevalent when movie houses charged 5 cents admission.

It is estimated that more editorials have been written on "The Covered Wagon" than any other production before the American people. Its value as a historical document has been extolled by educators throughout the land. And its influence as a matter of patriotic pride has received encomiums everywhere, besides it is thrilling entertainment.

Not only is it an absorbing and thrilling tale of the pioneers of America, but a story that bears repeating again and again, and a second or third view of the picture brings new and interesting data to mind.

News Notes From Movie Land

Anna Q. Nilsson is playing opposite Ernest Torrence in "The Mountebank." Incidentally Anna acquired a blue blooded police pup with which she planned to have her picture taken. Said pup proved temperamental, however, or else he had a most peculiar taste, for he refused to even make friends with Anna (imagine that!) and as for having his picture "took," nothing was further from his ambition. Anna says she will swap him for a nice elderly mongrel of friendly disposition.

Richard Walton Tully has gone into seclusion to write the continuity for "The Bird of Paradise." And this editorial work is the least of his troubles. He has to choose an actress to take the leading part. He says that there are only twelve girls who are capable of playing the role, but has not decided which of the twelve he will engage. And in the meantime, to prevent any young and lovely actress from losing her beauty sleep over the situation R. W. T. is maintaining strict secrecy about the names of the twelve he has in mind.

THEATRES

GRAND—Booth Tarkington's "Pied Piper Malone". In this picture Thomas Meighan has the role of a sea going man, beloved by the children, who is falsely accused. Naturally the ending is a happy one, but it has some thrilling moments.

RIVOLI—Harlod Lloyd, in "Girl Shy" has caught on in this funny picture, just as he always does. It is well worth seeing.

DREAMLAND—Dustin Farnum in "Kentucky [illegible]" a whale of a picture, staged in both the south and the west. Sunday, "The Phantom Horseman."

Tom Dempsey, brother of the heavyweight champion, is coming into prominence as manager of a stable of boxers now performing on the Pacific coast.

Another college athlete has decided to enter the professional boxing game. He is Fred Roberts, former gridiron and cinder path star at Oglethorpe University.

bulkiest of these things are garments to be worn by the ." I returned, smiling. "And I can have them wear double wardrobes if necessary. Besides, one of my few accomplishments is packing for a journey."

"That's good. You'll need all your skill," she replied as we started for the rooms where I had left Dr. and Mrs. Braithwaite and the Harrison children. I paused with my hand on the doorknob.

"How much do they know?" I asked.

"Nothing save what you told them before you left," she rejoined. "Your sister-in-law said you had told her to have everything in readiness to start at any time, and she looks as if she would accomplish any task well."

"She is very efficient," I commented, and in another minute we were inside our rooms, the parcels had been deposited on chairs and tables, and Mrs. Bird was outside again.

"Is Everything All Right?"

A glance told me that Harriet, indeed, had followed instructions. The children, washed and brushed within the traditional inch of their lives, sat demurely around a small table absorbed in a game which Harriet had slipped into her suitcase. The suitcase and bags, packed save for the necessary last things, stood open at one side of the room, and Edwin and Harriet in armchairs where they could keep monitory eyes on the children were making a brave pretense of reading.

They both sprang to their feet as we entered, and helped us dispose of the parcels. Characteristically, they asked no questions before the children, but I signaled them into the other room, with a quick but smiling admonition to Mary to keep her brothers quiet if they wished to see the new things I had brought them.

"Is everything all right?" Harriet asked breathlessly. "We saw the car come in, and it looked as if the driver were afraid you were being followed."

"We were," I replied, and then swiftly, in as few words as possible, I told them of my trip, of Lillian's plan to send them away by boat, and of the fact that both avenues of land exit from the grounds were guarded. Harriet drew her fine eyebrows together in an anxious frown, but as I had foreseen, she rose royally above her fears, and when I had finished her only comment was:

"We've less than an hour to get those children into as many articles of clothing as they can carry, and to compress the rest of the luggage into the smallest possible space. Come, Margaret, we haven't a second to waste."

NewsNotes From Movie Land

Thelma Morgan Converse does not wish to be known as the twin sister of Mrs. Reggie Vanderbilt or the daughter of Harry Hay Morgan, American consul general in Belgium. She prefers plain (but she isn't) Thelma Morgan. This young society woman who was educated in France and consequently speaks with a slight French accent, is taking her screen career very seriously.

"I have no illusions that a film career is ease and luxury," she says. "The only acting experience I have had was in amateur theatricals and that is of no importance or utility in this work. I have been told that I look like Elsie Ferguson, Norma Talmadge and Leatrice Joy. I am flattered, but I want to be known as the person who looks like myself, Thelma Morgan, and to be known for my own ability."

Mrs. Converse has a small part in George Fitzmaurice's production of "Cytherea" which is being made by Samuel Goldwyn.

Ivan Moskvin, one of the stars of the Moscow Art Players who have been playing New York and a few other favored cities during the last months, and whose one screen effort, Tolstoi's "Polikuska," has also been shown to a favored few, has this to say about the picture industry and the prospect of the Moscow Art Players making more pictures: That "Polikuska" was screened under difficulties of poor filming facilities. That few sets were used, the scenery shown being almost entirely views of Russian home life. That the Moscow Players have been offered large sums to make pictures in America but that the producing companies would reserve the right to alter the stories to what they would consider most pleasing to American audiences and he and his associates would not consider that for a moment. That they hope to make more pictures under more favorable circumstances where they will not be asked to lower their artistic standards to conform to the box office demands. Moskvin himself chose Tolstoi's story to screen as bein gmost typical of Russian peasant life of the period.

To those of us who were privileged to see "Polikuska" or any of the repertory of the Moscow Art Players it will be a bright day when Moskvin and hisi fellow artists begin showing the world at large and our own country in particular just how high film art can go as far as acting is concerned.

The success of "The Bat" and "The Cat and the Canary," mystery plays of the speaking stage have encouraged Joseph Henabery, Paramount producer, to think that the same type of story would succeed on the screen. Therefore, "The Guilty One," featuring Agnes Ayres is being produced. It was produced successfully on the stage.

The Promise
EASTER DAY has once more rolled round to remind us that there is a Resurrection and a life Everlasting. The Day is a symbol, it would seem, that man's soul never dies.
It is good that such a day should be sent once a year to remind us of God's promise that we shall live again. It is fitting that we should contemplate reverently the meaning of this Day of the Risen Christ.

The same number of candles.... have burned on Mrs. Brown's birthday cake for the last eight years. But as Mrs. Brown looks and feels at least eight years younger than she is, the candles really tell a truer story than the calendar.
And one of the reasons why Mrs. Brown has kept young is that she has long since stopped doing her own washing. Our "Wet Wash" service has taken the place of her washtub, and now instead of a hard day's work washing she has an extra day a week for staying young. And neither Mr. Brown nor Mrs. Brown need economize to pay the few cents a pound which our 'Wet Wash' service costs.
May we have a trial bundle this week from you?

What Proper Lighting In Your Store Will Do---

ONE OF THE LEADING MERCHANTS OF ELYRIA SAID TODAY, "BEFORE WE INSTALLED OUR MODERN LIGHTING SYSTEM, OUR CUSTOMERS USED TO COME IN DURING THE EVENING—LOOK OVER OUR LINE OF MERCHANDISE, SELECT A GARMENT AND SAY, 'I'LL TAKE THIS DRESS BUT I WANT TO COME IN TOMORROW DURING THE DAYTIME AND LOOK IT OVER TO DETERMINE ITS TRUE COLOR OR SHADE.' NOW, AFTER WE HAVE HAD OUR STORE PROPERLY ILLUMINATED THEY SELECT THE GARMENT WITHOUT ANY DIFFICULTY IN DETERMINING THE COLOR OR SHADE WITH OUR PRESENT SYSTEM OF STORE ILLUMINATION.

THUS WE FEEL THAT OUR LIGHTING SYSTEM HAS A GREAT ADVANTAGE FOR OUR CUSTOMERS AS WELL AS OUR STORE. WE CANNOT SPEAK TOO HIGHLY OF OUR NEW LIGHTING SYSTEM AND BELIEVE IT WOULD BE A FINE THING IF EVERY STORE IN ELYRIA WOULD MODERNIZE THEIR STORE ILLUMINATION."

THE ABOVE HAS BEEN ESPECIALLY TRUE DURING OUR PRESENT EASTER SEASON. MANY WOMEN AND MISSES WHO ARE UNABLE TO DO THEIR SHOPPING OTHER THAN SATURDAY NIGHT OR LATE AFTERNOONS ARE DELIGHTED WITH THE SERVICE WHICH OUR NEW LIGHTING SERVICE AFFORDS. THIS CONDITION OF SUPPRESSED SHOPPING ACTIVITY OFTEN TIMES AFFECTS THE BUSY HOUSEWIFE OR MOTHER WHO IS COMPELLED TO CONFINE MOST OF HER SHOPPING TO SATURDAY EVENINGS.

CORRECT LIGHTING EQUIPMENT IS AN ASSURANCE OF THE PROPER COLOR OR SHADE PARTICULARLY FITTING TO THE TASTE OR TYPE.

IT MAY BE WELL TO CALL YOUR ATTENTION TO THE SERVICE WE MAINTAIN TO HOME OWNERS AS A HOME CAN BE CORRECTLY OR INCORRECTLY ILLUMINATED AND THE EFFECT OF IMPROPER ILLUMINATION IS A HARDSHIP UPON EVERY MEMBER OF THE HOME.

YOU MAY FEEL AT LIBERTY TO CALL UPON US AT ANY TIME FOR ASSISTANCE OR ADVICE REGARDING ILLUMINATION PROBLEMS OF THE STORE OR HOME.
